"Two in one" product – health device and design element

SAIL – Balance board with hand massage

- Functional artwork in which are connected creativity, natural material and healthy well-being.
- Sail can be proudly presented in your office or home interior.
- Helps to avoid common office worker diseases e.g. mouse and heart disease, but also back and blood-supply problems.

- It is recommended to train daily 10-15 minutes on Sail to notice results.
- However few minutes of training is enough to keep your body healthy shape.
- Proper training position is developed by Swiss rehabilitation therapist Ruth Aukia-Liechti

- Currently Sail is made of plywood, however in future we plan to create Sail with led lights and transparent plastic.
- Anyone who is interested in Sail can choose the color of their product.

- There are no similar products on the market.
